Wabash System, Known as the Gould Lines, May Purchase C. and O. Canal.

C. and O. Canal.

According to a Philadelphia dispatch, the dissolution of the Atlantic Coast Line Despatch, the Richmond and Danville Despatch, and the Seaboard Air Line Despatch, a general reorganization of the freight business of the three reads named has taken place. The Richmond and Danville Despatch was part of the Southern Railway system. On December 1st these three despatch lines, which have heretoric been operated jointly, will be dissolved, and instead of one agency in the different cities cach of the three companies will have its dwn representative. The agency in Baltimore will be abandoned and the manager of the lines there will take charge of the Southern despatch business in Philadelphia. Each of the several roads will handle its Southern business for itself. The Southern Raitway will be represented in Philadelphia by F. W. Parsons, formerly at Raitimore; the Seaboard Air Jane by Samuel Kilpatrick, and the Atlantic Coast Line by W. R. Brown. The new plan will open positions for many more men in the various cities where agencies are located.

The Wabash system, well known as the Gould lings, is endeavoring to effect an entrance fitto Washington city, and is expected to become the purchaser of the alchesapeake and Ohio Canal, which will be sold by the Board of Public Works of the State of Maryland at Annapolis on Thursday. The District of Columbia also owns some of the bonds, and a bill will be offered in Congress to authorize the sale. The canal is 184 miles long and runs from Cumberland, Md., to Georgetown or West Washington. The purchaser will have to jay a mortgage debt of half a million dollars. Mr. Gould a yeur ago startled the railway world by effecting an entrance into Pittsburg, the greatest freight shipping centre in America.

Mr. T. D. Parrack, for the past four years employed as clerk in the city passenger office of the Atlantic Coast Line Rallway, has just been transferred to Pittsburg as agent for the Atlantic Coast Line Despatch. His new appointment is a very desirable one, and is looked upon as a fine opportunity for advancement. One of two local changes will occur in the next few days as a result of the transfer of Mr. Parrack.

President's Children Did Not 'Mistreat Thanksgiving Turkey Sent to White House.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Novembers 29.— William Loeb, Jr., as secretary to the President, to-day issued an oilicial signed statement, saying that President Roose-cit's children had not mistreated the Thanksgiving turkey sent to the Potent by Mr. Vose, of Rhode Island, the statement Mr. Loeb says:
"The President's attention has just be count of supposed maltreatment b nildren of the Thanksgiving turke over the White House grounds, pluch g at it and teasing and yelling and ughing until the bird was well nigh hausted, while the President looked on d laughed. As a matter of fact, the ent from Milwaukee. shipped to Oyster Bay because of its beauty, and is living peaceably with the rest of the inhabitants of the barnyard. No such incident as that recounted has ever taken place since the President has been in the White House, and nothing in the remotest degree resembling it has ever taken place."

ever taken place."
Secretary Loeb, after the statement had been issued, said:
"No attention would have been paid to this attack if it had been upon the President personally, but as it has been extended to members of his family, he feels that he ought to reply to it."
